a prominent scholar reveals the surprising ways that capitalism is actually the best way to follow jesus s mandates to alleviate poverty and protect our earth christianity generally sees capitalism as either bad because it causes much of the world s suffering or good because god wants you to prosper and be rich but there is a large growing audience of evangelical and mainline christians who are deeply uneasy about how to follow jesus s mandate to care for the poor and the environment while living with the excesses of capitalism now a noted christian scholar argues that there is a middle view that reveals christianity cannot only accommodate capitalism but christian theology can help explain why capitalism works by highlighting the most common myths committed by christians when thinking about economics such as capitalism is based on greed and over consumption or if someone becomes rich that automatically means someone else will become poor money guilt and god equips readers to take practical steps in their own lives to conduct business worship god and serve others without falling into the prosperity gospel trap traditional scholarship often points to the calvinists and max weber s writing on the protestant ethic as the catalysts to changing christian attitudes concerning profit seeking and wealth author skip worden argues that the seeds of this change occurred centuries earlier from the beginning of the commercial revolution to the fifteenth century renaissance he shows that the predominant christian thought on economics went through a fundamental shift becoming favorable toward profit seeking and wealth holding worden discusses this dramatic change and explains how the general antagonism toward the pursuit of wealth before the commercial revolution transformed into protestant theologians fighting against the prevailing view of a pro wealth paradigm during the fifteenth century worden contends that the shift away from the patristic view of wealth occurred well before the addition of the calvinist spirit of capitalism and the puritan work ethic into christian economic vernacular drawing on plato cicero and augustine early protestant theologians unsuccessfully sought to check the rising dominance of the pro wealth christian paradigm which they believed had been pushed too far these theologians of the sixteenth and seventeenth century felt it was too close to advocating love of gain itself something too close to the sin of greed how well the reformation succeeded can be assessed by worden s insightful concluding study of john d rockefeller the ascetic steward of god s gold in the form of monopoly
